Laws of the United States.

Passed at the Second Session of the Thirty seventh Congress.

[PUBLIC ACT—No. 87.]

An Act providing for the selection of jurors to serve in the several courts in the District of Columbia.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That it shall be the duty of the Register of Washington city, and the respective clerks of the city of Georgetown and the Levy Court of Washington county, in the District of Columbia, within one month after the passage of this act, and on or before the first day of February in each year thereafter, to make a list of such of the white male citizens, tax payers, residing within their respective jurisdictions, as they shall judge best qualified to serve as jurors in the courts of the said District, in which lists may be included, in the discretion of the officers making the same, the names of such qualified persons as were on the previous year, but did not serve as jurors; and the lists thus made by the register and clerks aforesaid shall be kept by them, respectively, and be delivered over to their successors in office.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the officers aforesaid shall select from the list of the register of Washington city the names of four hundred persons, from that of the clerk of Georgetown eighty persons, and from that of the clerk of the levy court forty persons, which proportion after the year eighteen hundred and sixty-three, may be varied from year to year, according to the increase or decrease of population in the respective jurisdictions, by order of the judges of the Circuit Court of Washington county.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That the Mayors of Washington and Georgetown, all [illegible] officers, salaried officers of the Government of the United States, commissioners of police, and those connected with the police and fire department, counsellors and attorneys at law, ministers of the gospel and priests of every denomination, practising physicians and surgeons, keepers of hospitals, asylums, almshouses, or other charitable institutions created by or under the laws relating to the District of Columbia, captains and masters and other persons employed in vessels navigating the waters of said District, and ferrymen of public ferries, shall be exempt from jury duty, and their names shall not be placed to the list aforesaid.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That the names selected from said lists shall be written on separate and similar pieces of paper, which shall be so folded or rolled up that the names cannot be seen, and placed in a box to be provided by the register and clerks aforesaid, which box shall be sealed, and after being thoroughly shaken, shall be delivered to the clerk of the circuit court of Washington county for safe keeping.

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That the said register and clerks and the clerk of the circuit court, shall, at least ten days before the commencement of each term of the circuit or of the criminal court, meet at the City Hall in Washington city, and then and there the clerk of the circuit court shall publicly break the seal of said box, and proceed to draw therefrom the names of so many persons as are required; and at the jury about to be drawn is intended for service in the criminal court, the twenty-three persons whose names shall be first drawn shall constitute the grand jury, and the twenty-six persons whose names shall next be drawn shall constitute the petit jury for that term; but in a capital case, where the said panel shall have been exhausted by reason of challenge or otherwise, the court before whom such capital case is pending may, in its discretion, order additional names to be drawn; and if all of the names in the box shall have been drawn out and no jury found, the court may order the marshal to summon talesmen until a jury shall be found. And if a jury be required for the circuit court, the twenty-six persons whose names shall first be drawn shall constitute the jury for that term, and the names of the persons drawn as aforesaid shall not be again placed in said box for the period of two years. If any person whose name is so drawn shall have died or removed from the District, or has become otherwise disabled from serving as a juror, the said register and clerks shall draw from the box another name who shall serve instead; and after the requisite number of jurors shall have been so drawn, the said box shall be again sealed and delivered to the clerk of the circuit court as aforesaid.

SEC. 6. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the Marshal of the District of Columbia, at least five days before the meeting of the court for which a jury is required, to notify each person drawn, by serving on him a notice in writing of his selection as a juror of the court he is to attend, and of the day and hour he is to appear; which notice shall be given to each juror in person or be left at his usual place of residence; a copy of which notice, with his certificate stating when and in what manner the original was served, shall be returned by the said marshal to the court before the commencement of the term for which the said jurors were drawn.

SEC. 7. And be it further enacted, That in case of either of the officers whose duty it is to make out the lists aforesaid shall neglect or refuse to act, or in case either of them shall be interested in any action or proceeding pending in the said circuit or criminal court, the chief judge of the circuit court shall appoint a fit and proper person to discharge the duties instead; and if the persons selected as jurors do not attend, the court may order the marshal to summon other respectable [illegible] persons having the qualifications required to supply the deficiency. And if at any time there should not be, by reason of challenge or otherwise, a sufficient number of jurors to make up the panel, the court shall order the marshal to summon as many talesmen as are necessary for that purpose.

SEC. 8. And be it further enacted, That no person shall be competent to act as a juror unless he be a citizen of the United States, a resident of the District of Columbia, over twenty-one and under sixty-five years of age, a good and lawful man, who has never been convicted of a felony or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude. And any person may be excused by the court from serving on a jury when, for any reason, the interest of those of the public will be materially injured by his attendance, or when he is a party to any action or proceeding to be tried or determined by the intervention of a jury at the term for which he may be summoned, or when the sickness, or the death of a member of his family requires his absence.

SEC. 9. And be it further enacted, That if any officer named in the first section of this act shall put on the list to be required to make the names of any person at his own request, or on the request of any other person, or shall be guilty of any fraud or collusion with respect to the drawing of jurors, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars, and imprisoned in the county jail not less than sixty days, for each and every offence. And if the clerk of the circuit court shall draw from the box a greater number of names than is required by the court, or in accordance with the provisions of this act, or shall put in said box any name after the same has been delivered to him as aforesaid, or shall be guilty of any fraud or collusion in respect to the drawing of jurors, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars and be imprisoned in the county jail not less than sixty days, for each and every offence.

SEC. 10. And be it further enacted, That if any person selected as a juror and duly notified to attend according to the requirements of this act, shall without sufficient cause, neglect to attend agreeably to such notice, he shall be fined by the court in a sum not exceeding twenty dollars for every day he shall be absent during the sitting of said court.

SEC. 11. And be it further enacted, That the names on the lists specified in the second section of this act shall be selected, as near as may be, from among the citizens in the several wards of the cities of Washington and Georgetown, and the three divisions of the county of Washington outside the limits of said cities formed by the Eastern branch of the Potomac river and Rock creek, in proportion to the number of taxable inhabitants residing in said wards and districts, respectively.

Approved, June 16, 1862.

VISIT FROM THE EMPEROR'S SON.—The New York Herald's Washington correspondence furnishes a story to the effect that one of the sons of the Emperor of Russia is about to visit the United States. This visit, it is said, is to take place in answer to an invitation recently made by Cameron, our Embassador to the Emperor of Russia. Cameron having had the opportunity of expressing, in the course of conversation with her Majesty, the measure it would be for the American people to offer their hospitality to one of the members of the Imperial family, the Empress said in reply: that her second son being in the navy, she would send him soon to the United States to assure the people of that country of her esteem, friendship and admiration.

U. S. DEMAND NOTES.—The Herald and Mirror says:

Only $1,000,000 in Treasury notes has yet been sent to this coast, and out of this $600,000 has been disbursed by the Government. Of this $600,000, at least $400,000 has been sent to the East, leaving only $200,000 in circulation. The Federal internal revenue tax will have to be paid in a few days, and it will absorb in a short time all of this description of currency we have amongst us. In a month the public demand for them will raise them to par. Indeed, speculators were purchasing them on Friday and Saturday in anticipation of a rise. The $400,000 yet remaining unemployed will in the same manner be taken up or remitted East. It will thus at once be seen that there is no reason why legal tender notes should now have only a discount value. The fact seems to be, brokers have been [illegible] them to accomplish selfish purposes. Such men are enemies of their country. [illegible] them 'bull' and 'bear' the market as much as they will in all other respects, but they should not make merchandise of the [illegible] currency. The man who would destroy public confidence in the ability of the Government to discharge its obligations, in order that he may make money out of [illegible], is as untrue in his loyalty as he who shoulders a musket in the Confederate service.

DOUGLAS [illegible], son of the celebrated English author and wit, enlisted as a private in Captain [illegible]'s company, Col. Porter's regiment, on the [illegible] of August. Douglas is a gentleman of ability, inheriting no small portion of his father's wit, and possessing a fine education. He occupied for five years a responsible position in the British Commissariat, which he resigned for the purpose of taking up his abode in the United States.

THE STATESMAN has reliable correspondents in all the mining regions of Oregon, and Washington Territory—Powder River, Salmon River, Oro Fino, Colville, and the Bitter Root and Deer Lodge Valleys; and its facilities for obtaining news from these localities, both through its correspondents and the expresses running from Walla Walla to these points, are superior to those of any other paper published in Oregon or Washington Territory.

☞ The paper is the same size as the Weekly Oregonian, and its large circulation in all the mining regions above mentioned renders it, to merchants and others, an excellent advertising medium. aug6:4mdw

State Fair

A large number of our citizens have gone up to Salem to attend the State Fair, which commences to-morrow morning. We have no doubt that several thousand persons will be in attendance, and, as has been previously remarked by us, the sights to be seen and the pleasure experienced will richly repay most of those who go. Extensive preparations have been made for the accommodation of all, and from the famed hospitality which the people of Salem have justly merited, we have every confidence that no one will have cause to grumble on account of bad treatment or exorbitant rates of fare.

The grounds upon which the Fair is to take place, have been fitted up at much cost, and are quite beautiful and pleasant.

At a meeting of a large number of the members of the State Agricultural Society, held in Salem last week, the State Fair Grounds were permanently located at that place upon the Fair grounds of the Marion County Society. Arrangements will be perfected between appropriate committees on the part of the State and County Societies for the use and occupancy of the grounds by each, which will greatly assist each in decreasing the expense necessary for the proper accommodations and permanent improvement of the grounds.

We have made arrangements for the reports of each day's proceedings during the present Fair, which will be published in our daily and weekly editions. Also, general topics of interest to the farming, producing and agricultural class of our citizens, will be commented upon, which, we doubt not, will prove useful and interesting to a large number of our readers. We feel much interest in the progressive development of the agricultural advantages of this country, and shall spare no pains to assist in the dissemination of all useful knowledge and interesting facts which may come within our reach. We are satisfied that the Willamette Valley is not inferior to any country in the world for the productions of the staples of life, and that when our farmers apply the proper scientifical tests to the soil, results will follow greatly superior to many other localities, and in every way profitable and pleasant.

AMENDMENT TO THE CITY CHARTER.—We are indebted to Mr Wasserman for the following copy of an amendment to the City Charter, introduced by him in the House. Something of this kind has been needed for a long time, and we hope our Legislature will pass it forthwith:

An Act to amend an Act entitled "An Act to Incorporate the City of Portland."

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon, That sections one and two of article seven of an Act entitled "An Act to incorporate the City of Portland," be, and the same are hereby, repealed.

SEC 2. Be it further enacted, That whenever the Common Council shall deem it expedient to open, alter, improve, or repair, any street or alley or parts of streets or alleys, notice thereof shall be given by publication in some newspaper published in the city. Should the owners of two-thirds of the adjacent property protest against the proposed improvement or repair, it shall not then be made. All such protests shall be made in writing, and addressed to the Common Council, and shall be made within ten days after such publishment. If no such protest be made, the Common Council shall proceed with such improvement and repair, at least two thirds of the expenses of which shall be borne by the adjacent property, and when the owner of two-thirds of the property situate on or adjacent to any public street, if the width or depth of a block or more, shall petition to the Common Council, in writing, to have the same improved or repaired, the same shall be done on such terms as the Common Council may determine, at least two thirds of the expenses of which shall be borne by the owners of the adjacent property.

SEC 3. If any owner or owners of property improved or repaired, under the provisions of this article, shall fail or neglect to pay his, her, or their proportionate part of such expense of improvements or repairs, in manner or at the time provided for by the Common Council, the amount of such proportionate part of such expense shall be a lien upon such adjacent property, and said lien may be enforced by suit in the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Multnomah county, and the property be sold for the payment thereof, by proceedings as near as may be in conformity with the provisions of title one of chapter two of an Act entitled "An Act, concerning Liens of Mechanics, Laborers, and other Persons," passed 22d December, 18[illegible]

SEC 4. That in addition to the powers now possessed by the Mayor and Common Council of the city of Portland, the said Mayor and Common Council shall have power within said city:

1. To license, tax and regulate hacks, cabs and all other vehicles, laundries, all offensive trades and occupations.
2. To license and tax all dealers in goods, wares, merchandise, liquors, provisions, fruits, vegetables, meats, and all persons engaged in assaying, melting and refining the precious metals.
4. To license and tax all steamships, steamboats, sail vessels and sail boats, ferry boats and all water crafts coming into, departing from, or laying at, the port of Portland within the city limits.

THE LABORS OF JOSEPH HOLT AND ROBERT DALE OWEN.—The investigations into contractors' accounts with Government, by Messrs Holt and Owen, have resulted in a saving to the country of seventeen millions of dollars.

From our Powder River Correspondent.

AUBURN, POWDER RIVER MINES, }
Sept 14, 1862. }

[illegible]

In my last communication I stated that my next would contain a more extensive and satisfactory [illegible] of the mines than it was possible for me then to give, owing to the fact of my late arrival in the country. Since then I have used due diligence to post myself up in the matter, and the following is the result of my observations.

THE MINES—THEIR EXTENT, RICHNESS, &c.

These mines are what are usually termed deep diggings—that is, the gravel is very deep and will take considerable time and labor to work them out. Their extent is almost without bounds. So far as prospecting shows the ground between this place, Burnt river, Snake river, John Day's river, and the Malheur is auriferous, though in some places not rich enough to justify working at the present high prices of labor and provisions.—The Powder river region embraces mines that are miles in extent, and which on an average will pay wages. Thus far, not much gold has found its way out of this region from the fact that the country was discovered late in the spring, and before claims were opened the water vanished, since which time the miners, with but few exceptions, have been engaged in surveying and bringing in ditches, so that hereafter they may have no further trouble or delay in working their diggings.—Next spring you may rest assured the gold will pour into the hands of your merchants and business men in a manner that Salmon with all its riches has never equaled. Unlike many of the diggings that have been discovered in this Northern country heretofore, these mines require capital and skill to make them pay. There are no "big strikes" to be expected here, from $5 to $100 a day will be the average, according to the hand, according to locality, and this steady stream of gold pouring in alone from this one place will in the end astonish those who now look upon it as a puny, insignificant mining camp. Robbers are here scattered by a plentiful hand for the many and not for the few. Croakers about the mines are plentiful here as they no doubt are in your city, but depend upon it they are men who never show their noses outside the suburbs of the town, and if they did were too lazy or improvident to prospect the places where gold is likely to be found. These men are to be found in every community and in every branch of business.

THE MEN OF THE TIMES.

As a set off to these drone-like specimens of humanity I would mention the names of M. H. Comstock and Kirkpatrick & Co. The former of these gentlemen is a man of world-wide experience. He has spent years in the mines of Mexico, and having there accumulated a knowledge of minerals, and the line wherewith to find their lurking places he traveled towards Washoe, where he discovered those leads (one of which now bears his name—which for the past few years have been supplying the United States with the gold and silver upon which their commerce so much depends. As in most other cases the deserving discoverer was crowded out and deprived of his rights by those who could appreciate the results of persevering labor but who if placed with their own resources could accomplish nothing. After suffering all this ill treatment and robbery from men of capital, Mr. Comstock turned his attention Northward, and arriving at this place discovered and located upon what is now known as French Gulch, at the head of which are his two quartz leads, which without doubt will yield him a large revenue. His placer claims also promise to be richly remunerative, and I have no doubt the day is not far distant when he will be far above those who cheated him out of the fruits of his honest labor. He has brought ditches in from every available stream, and is now furnishing miners with water at prices barely remunerative for the expense incurred. While speaking of this gentleman there is another matter concerning him to which I would call the attention of the Legislature. Seeing the position to which this country was bound to arrive he surveyed and laid out a splendid road between the town and the Grand Ronde Valley, which considerably shortens the distance, and which overcomes many high mountains which it is almost impossible to ascend with loaded teams. This road has cost him in the neighborhood of $6000, and he now asks from the Legislature a charter so that he may be able to indemnify himself. It was a much needed improvement, and it will indeed be hard after his expending his money in good faith if the Legislature do not grant him a charter.—The principal travel is now on that road, although the old one is still open for those who prefer using up their animals and teams, rather than pay a picayune tribute for toll. Mr. Kirkpatrick has taken this matter in hand, and will, I hope, prove the champion in this good and just cause.

A TRAGEDY.

On the evening before last, our town was the scene of a terrible tragedy, which caused the almost instantaneous death of a lately arrived French immigrant, by poison, and seriously endangered the lives of two others.—The matter as near as I could make out from the evidence, is as follows: Four men, all French, made up their mind to immigrate from Denver to this place. In the outfit the three who were poisoned fell short of funds, and the other party advanced them $30 on their share of the outfit. The prisoner filled the wagon up with a set of blacksmith's tools, while the others put in the necessary provisions only. On their arrival here a few days since, Lucien Degarshence, the prisoner, tried to get possession of his tools, but the other three objected to it until they should have a settlement. An arbitration was called which decided that the prisoner should pay the balance of the party $60, besides what he advanced in the start, it appearing that the others drove the wagon the whole distance and were retarded in their progress by the amount of the freight carried for the prisoner. The prisoner threatened to shoot one of his comrades, but was prevented by a bystander.—On the next morning he stated his intention of leaving them and going to a hotel to board. That night the bread which had been previously baked having given out, the deceased made up some slapjacks for supper, of which all partook, one of them saying that he thought them very bitter. In a short time symptoms of poison showed themselves, and the one who had eaten the least started for a doctor, who immediately on his arrival declared the poison to be strychnine, and administered antidotes accordingly, but the poison had taken such a hold on the deceased that he died almost immediately after the doctor's arrival. The others were seriously injured but are likely to recover. The prisoner was immediately arrested and the doctor on examining the sack of flour found some crystals of strychnine in it, and also gave some of the dough which had been mixed up but not cooked, to a dog, which expired immediately.

The citizens then took the matter in hand, and after requesting all the miners to attend a court of inquiry was formed as follows:—Judges Gen. M. M. McCarver, W. H. Packwood and Judge Abell. Marshal, Geo. W. Hall. Clerk, Mr. Whalon. Deputy Clerk, Mr. Margery. The following jurors were sworn to try the case: Messrs Cooper, Santelle, Kirkham, Jones, M'Fadden, Boyle, Minor, Robbins, Kennebecher, Wells, Long and Ingraham. Two attorneys to defend the prisoner and two to prosecute, were appointed. The case is now being tried as I write.

The immigrants are still coming in and our population is daily being augmented from this source. Already we have over one hundred ladies in our midst whose presence exerts a decided influence for good. It is something I cannot comprehend, but nevertheless it is so, that even the most boisterous and vulgar of the human species are somewhat curbed when in the presence or vicinity of virtuous women.

Before leaving Portland I was asked by several young men to write them what the prospects are here. It would be a herculean and not inexpensive task to comply with all these requests, but I would here state that so far as my observation goes, this country is large enough for all, and that early next spring is the time to come. Let me advise those who are doing well to stay where they are, it is only those who are out of employment that should wish a trip here. A statistician has calculated that all the men who went to California averaged only 40 cents a day. This place will be no exception. All cannot make fortunes here. If any dear my name it is at their service, but they must not blame me if they come here and do nothing.

I am indebted to Mossman & Co's Express for favors, and I would recommend them to the patronage of the Portland public. They are the only Express running direct from Portland to this place, and make good time. Mossman himself arrived here this morning at 9 o'clock, about 26 hours from Walla Walla. This time is hard to beat. CRAYON.

[Monday, Sept 14, 1862.

Last night the case of Lucien Degarshence for the poisoning of the Frenchmen was given to the jury, and after a few moments deliberation they brought in the following verdict: "We the jury find the prisoner guilty of wilful murder as charged, and recommend that he suffer the extreme penalty of the law." Judge Packwood then read the verdict to the prisoner, who appeared unconcerned about the matter. He sentenced the prisoner to be hung on Friday next at the hour of 12 o'clock M. The prisoner's temper having got control of him and he asked "that he might be hung sooner, as he did not wish to wait so long." The Court, however, saw fit to have him wait the required time. He is now in charge of a committee of citizens, who no doubt will take good care of him. Thus has ended a trial which lasted two days, and which for order, decorum and dignity, rivaled some of our courts in the more civilized and law abiding counties.

This morning ground was broken upon the new ditch which is to supply this entire mining camp with water, and which it is estimated will cost $40,000. This ditch will furnish employment to hundreds who otherwise would have been compelled to seek the valley during the coming winter. Success to it. C.

IN ERROR.—We were in error relative to the statement recently published by us that the Willamette Woolen Manufacturing Company had ordered another set of machinery from the East, for the purpose of setting up another manufacturing establishment in Lane county. The facts are: this company have ordered two sets of machinery, all entirely new and better adapted to the manufacturing of the wool of this country into the various kinds of heavy and fine woolen cloths, which they design to set up at Salem in addition to the establishment now in operation. There is a report that an opposition company contemplate starting an establishment of the kind in Lane county, but the Willamette company have no interest therein.

MORE SPECIMENS.—Mr F. J. Wright showed us yesterday morning some half dozen fine large specimens of coarse gold taken out of Canyon creek, John Day mines, the largest of which weighed $24. Mr Wright states that the prospects are very flattering throughout that mining region for rich and lasting mines, and parties engaged in mining frequently find large specimens, or nuggets, weighing from $2 50 to $40 and $50. Several chunks of the gold are entirely solid and pure.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept 21.

A sword, valued at $2,000, is to be sent to General Joseph W. Hooker.

Five hundred dollars in Treasury notes sold yesterday for ninety six cents.

The Russian war steamer Abreik arrived in 24 days from Kamschatka; is of 1,004 tons, has 400 horse power engines, 8 guns and 428 men.

Fourteen hundred dollars [fourteen thousand dollars (?)] have been added to the funds in the hands of the Relief Committee. The lawyers subscribed ten thousand, and call on the Supervisors to ask the next Legislature to authorize this city to appropriate $250,000 for the war. The employees in municipal offices appointed a Committee to canvass the several departments of the City Government for subscriptions.

The steamer Oregon, in three days from Victoria, brings 200 passengers and $208,077 treasure.

THE SEVEN DAYS BATTLES.—The Richmond correspondent of the Charleston Mercury, writes:

Crocker, Superintendent of the Army Intelligence Office, states that his books show between 11,000 and 12,000 wounded in the battle before Richmond, and thinks the whole number, including those in private houses not reported to him, will be about 12,500.—General Lee, I am told, estimates the killed at 3,500. To these must be added a great many who were disabled by exhaustion, want of food and bad water, so that the sum total would amount, perhaps, to 18,000 or 20,000. The percentage of deaths among the wounded has been heavy, owing to the hot weather. I have heard it put at eighty per cent, but this is foolish. No case of amputation above the knee is said to have recovered, but this, also, I doubt.

ATTACK BY INDIANS ON THE PLAINS.—SALT LAKE, Sept. 21.—Charles McBride, from Virginia City, arrived here yesterday, one of a party of fifteen, bound for the States. The party was attacked by the Snake Indians at the City of Rocks, on the Humboldt route, 140 miles north. They fought the Indians 30 miles, losing 6 killed and 2 wounded, and all of their outfit. The reports of Indian depredations are coming in daily. Much trouble is expected by the late emigration.

PANIC IN MINNESOTA SUBSIDED.—OMAHA, N. T., Sept 20th.—Messengers sent from the northern settlements report that the panic caused by the Indian massacres in Minnesota had subsided. There is not now the remotest probability of trouble to settlers in any part of this Territory from Indian depredations.

MEAGHER NOT KILLED.

BOMBARDMENT OF NATCHEZ—BAYOU SARA BURNED.

MEMPHIS, Sept 18.—New Orleans dates to the 10th have been received. The gunboat [illegible] up river. On her way down she was fired into at Natchez, for which the city was bombarded for two hours, at the end of which time it surrendered, and the stars and stripes were raised. [illegible] proceeded to Bayou Sara, which town she also burned. Passing Port Hudson, the rebel batteries, 4 guns, opened on her, a heavy battle ensued, lasting [illegible], resulting in her silencing the battery, composed of guns of heavy calibre. She received no damage except to smoke pipes and ventilators. Her iron sides were struck in a multitude of places with ten inch and other size balls, resulting in only slight indentations. The balls broke into fragments. It is impossible to ascertain the loss of the enemy.

The crew of the Essex were completely protected so as to prevent them from receiving [illegible] and no casualties occurred on our side.

WASHINGTON, Sept 21.—Hooker has been appointed Brigadier General in the regular army, in consideration of his valuable services. His wound is serious and he is [illegible] lockjaw. The report of the death of Meagher is incorrect. He is wounded.

CAIRO, Sept 21.—Gen. Rosecrans is said to have taken six hundred [illegible] artillery and 400 prisoners at Iuka, Mississippi.

Louisville, Sept 21.—Two hundred rebel cavalry attacked Home Guards, [illegible] at Newcastle, to-day. The latter surrendered men, horses, and arms without firing a gun.

[illegible], Sept 20th.—Ten thousand stand of arms, belonging to the enemy, were found on Antietam battle field.

[illegible], Sept. 21st.—The 4th Michigan crossed the river yesterday at [illegible] and brought back four pieces of artillery captured [illegible] a Virginia [illegible] again attempted Saturday. Gen Burns with his own and a portion of Sickles brigade crossed and took possession. Shortly after the enemy approached with a line of infantry a mile long. The troops were soon engaged when order was given to retire which was done in good order. The enemy following closely, when they came within range a fire was opened from 20 pieces artillery on Maryland shore, with such effect, they were obliged to retire. Their loss must have been heavy, as our shell were seen to make large gaps in their lines. Our loss in killed wounded and prisoners was 150.

NEW YORK, Sept 22.—The Tribune's Washington correspondent of the 21st says heavy firing was going on all day Saturday. Our troops had crossed the Potomac and were fighting on the other side.

In fighting, so far, we have a decided advantage. The correspondent asserts the testimony of his own eyes that we captured a whole brigade of rebels on Saturday.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21st.—The Inquirer has dispatches from Frederick, 20th, which says rebels crossed their entire army at Blackford, three miles east of Sharpsburg, between 10 o'clock Thursday night and daylight Friday. This morning we are shelling woods on opposite bank, preparatory to crossing.

WASHINGTON, Sept 21st.—Dispatch dated battle field of Antietam, says, yesterday our lines were advanced towards enemy, when it was discovered that rebels had retreated during the night, leaving their along entire line. Those left behind generally surrendered. The rebel reinforcements expected Thursday and Friday did not arrive. Our cavalry pursued and captured a few hundred stragglers, but beyond this effected but little injury on the enemy. Prisoners say Gen. Jo Johnson died of his wounds at Richmond.

The Herald's Frederick dispatch of the 20th says, at 6 a. m. a brigade of enemy opposite Shepherdstown appeared and fired a volley of musketry into our artillery camp. Our batteries opened on them, causing them to disappear. During the morning they sent a flag of truce, asking permission to bury their dead.

COLUMBIA RIVER MINES.—A party of men who have been working on the Columbia river, near the mouth of the Okanagan, came down yesterday for their winter supplies. They report several hundred miners at work on the river between Colville and the Okanagan, all of whom are making fair wages. One of the party has with him $1,000 in dust, and they all appear to have a sufficiency of the "needful."—Mountaineer, Sept 27th.

From the Oregon Farmer.

Our Exportations.

It is with States as with individuals. If they are constantly purchasing articles of value, whether of subsistence or clothing, and do not in return barter themselves to secure the necessary means for defraying this indebtedness, they sooner or later become bankrupt. And likewise that individual or State the value of whose exportations overbalances that of their imports, is constantly augmenting wealth. Business glides along in easy grooves, money is plentiful and circulates freely, and improvements of all kinds go forward with uninterrupted rapidity. Furthermore it is also bad policy to limit the articles of our exports when they can as readily be increased.

It is bad policy for a State or people to depend exclusively upon the exportation of any one article even though it be quite lucrative, for an adverse season may entirely cut off that, the main article of export. It is also wise to study carefully the present and future wants of the market and govern yourselves in accordance therewith. If a certain state of the market will render it most advantageous for the farmer to ship his grain to market, he should be prepared to do so; but if that grain would bring better returns by feeding it to his stock and thus sending it to market in the shape of beef and pork, then the farmer should wisely set himself about, thus taking advantage of the market.

But as the market is always to a greater or less extent liable to fluctuations, true policy would dictate that the farmer, as we have before affirmed, should vary his articles of produce. For instance, suppose farmer A raises a thousand bushels of grain. Now let him hold in readiness one-half of that grain for market in its present state, and let him with the other half fatten his beeves and, and then if the demand for one kind of his produce be meager and insignificant, he is in a much better condition than though he had thrown his entire produce into the market in that state.

The exportations of Oregon have heretofore been altogether too limited both in variety and extent for the welfare and prosperity of the State. So far our chief, and we might almost say only, articles of export have been flour and apples. And they have thus been limited when at the same time these very articles, if thrown into different shapes, would have been to the great benefit of the producer. And the main one of these articles, wheat, has been subjected to great competition. We have had to send it to market at times when that market was so plethoric that our returns have been but trivial. The other article of export mentioned is one of which we have now and shall have, for some time, to quite an extent a monopoly.

But there are other articles of export which we could furnish, and which we ought to furnish. We have before stated that in our opinion butter making is one of the most profitable branches of farming, and that butter might be one of the very best and most reliable articles of exportation. And this article has been almost entirely ignored. Oregon has hardly furnished enough good butter for home consumption. It is now difficult for us to step into market and purchase a good article of butter, and and if found we are obliged to pay from forty to fifty cents per pound. And the price of butter in San Francisco is fully up to these rates. It does indeed seem passing strange that farmers should neglect to avail themselves of such a chance to make money. We have known dairymen in the Atlantic States to acquire a competence by the sale of butter at ten and twelve cents a pound, and how is it that here where butter is four or five times dearer, the farmers are loth to enter into the dairy business? And his is but one of the many articles of export that we might furnish, all of which would serve to enhance the wealth and prosperity of the State.

Instead of depending solely upon one or two articles, we should labor to increase the variety of our exportations. We should be prepared to push into market not only flour and apples, but butter, cheese, wool, pork, vinegar, dried apples, and in fact every thing that is marketable. And when we do this, when we even cease importing those articles which we should have been exporting largely, then we may rest assured that the cry of "hard times" will not be heard so frequently as now, but the farmers will return from market with their pockets laden with "hard cash."

Anecdote of Generals Milroy and Stewart. General Milroy and the rebel General Stewart lately met on the battle field of Cedar Mountain, while the soldiers were burying the dead. Gen. Milroy commented severely upon the system of guerilla warfare; at which Gen. Stewart remarked that this species of warfare was practiced by our troops in Mexico. Gen. Milroy asked him where he obtained the information. General Stewart—"I read of it." General Milroy—"You are mistaken, sir! 'Twas not done, sir! I was in Mexico myself." In the course of conversation, General Stewart feigned impatience at the time consumed in burying the dead, and said he was in a hurry, as he intended to sup in Culpepper that evening. The conference ended by General Milroy remarking, "You may sup there sir; but I will sit at the head of the table."

San Francisco Fruit Market.

San Francisco, Sept. 8th, 1862.

Ed. Or'n Farmer:—The steamer Oregon arrived here on the 1st inst., bringing over 300 boxes apples and pears, which sold readily at 4c and 6c. Also the steamer Pacific arrived yesterday with 40 boxes which sold today at 4½c.

This market is well supplied with peaches and plums which have sold at very low prices during the past week; peaches from 1 to 3c per pound, and plums 2 to 6c. Bartlett pears are plenty—sold last week at 4c per pound, and to day at 5c.

Good apples are in demand at 4 and 5c—extra choice ones a little higher. Cooking apples, 2 to 3c.

Grapes are pretty plenty—selling at 4 to 5c. Eight hundred boxes arrived from Los Angeles to-day and sold at 6c.

Respectfully yours,

Knapp, Burrell & Co.
